We have launched the Boca Ski Club on MeetUp.com to better communicate with you and attract new members to the club. This social media site lets us reach out to skiers and snowboards in South Florida that would like to meet new people that share the same passion for the slopes. The purpose of the site will help us keep club members updated on the events and upcoming trips. The site has only been up for a few days, but has already attracted several new faces. I would like everyone to go to www.meetup.com/Boca-Ski-Club/
